THE STRANGER IN THE PUMKIN SAID,
there is no light inside your head,
what a dullard you must be without light how can you see?
Don't you know that heads should shine and beacons light themselves like mine
So don't just stand there in a pout, with that dark dome striking out.
It makes me sick to look at it,
go and get your candle lit.

What God Hath Promised

God hath not Promised
skies always blue,
Flower-strewn pathways
all our lives through.
God hath not promised
sun without rain,
Joy without sorrow,
peace without pain.

But God hath promised strength for the day.
Rest for the laborer,
light on the way;
Grace for the trail,
help from above.
Unfailing sympathy
Lending love.

II Peter 3:9

After the turkey
Has done all it can
To brighten your tummy
And dirty your sea

You may want to do
Something freaky again
Giving pleasure to one
Whose first name is Glenn

And go with him to
Somewhere he'll not get say
If it's all right with you
I'll be Saturday

If it just cannot be
Or you don't want a date
Please leave me a note -
Otherwise, I'll see you at 8!

Dear Glenn,

Hey, you're a poet!

Clever.....

Thanks for the invitation. I'd really like to go but.... I'll be in Wyoming all day Saturday. We're leaving early sat. and coming home that night. I'm pretty sure that we won't be home by 8:00.

So, how about a rain check?
(I'll be looking forward to it.)

Your Friend

Pam

P.S. How was your
Turkey Dinner?
Mine was Mmmm...
Good!

You're sharper than a
two-edged sword
You're really quite a sight.
You're shiny as it's silver blade
And almost twice as bright!

Your workmanship is very fine
You make a lovely prize
I've looked you over and I've found
You're the best - in my eyes.

ENGAGEMENT

I'm so glad I found you!

LOVE

Ram,

YOU MAY WALK INTO WALLS
WHILE YOU'RE STILL HALF ASLEEP,
AND WHEN YOU GO DANCING,
WEAR SHOES WAY TOO STEEP;

YOU KNOW HOW TO MAKE HASTE
THRO' SNOW THAT'S KNEE-DEEP,
BUT YOU MANAGE SOMEHOW
SOME BRUISES TO KEEP.

YOU SAY YOU CAN'T COOK,
BUT I KNOW THAT AIN'T SO,
AT LEAST YOU ATTEMPT
'CAUSE YOUR SCAR TISSUE SHOWS.

AND LAST BUT NOT LEAST,
YOU HAVE TACT IN THE AIR -
I'VE NEVER SEEN SOMEONE
GIVE THEMSELVES SUCH A SCARE!

BUT THRO' ALL YOUR FORTUNES
OF KNOW-HOW AND SKILL
YOU'VE GOT ONE FLAW SHOWING - A STRONG MIND AND WILL.

YOU'RE BETTER BY FAR
THAN A MILLION AND THREE;
AND MUCH MORE THAN THAT,
YOU'RE THE BEST ONE FOR ME.

SO WHEN I'M JUST KIDDING
AND JOKING AROUND,
DON'T THINK I MEAN HARM -
I JUST THINK YOU'RE A CLOWN!

BUT EVEN MORE SO,
I KNOW YOU'RE A QUEEN.
AND I'LL THANK YOU NOW
FOR BEING SO KEEN.

SO REMEMBER NEXT FALL,
WHEN YOU STUB YOUR BIG TOE -
IT'S REALLY YOUR BEAUTY
JUST TRYING TO SHOW!

Love,
Alan

Recipe for Home

1/2 Friendship, add 1 c. thoughtfulness. Cream together with a pinch of goodness tenderness very tightly. Knead in a bowl of loyalty, with a cup of faith, one of hope, and one of clarity. Be sure to add a spoonful each of gentleness that rings and also ability to laugh at all the little things. Moistened with the sudden tears of heartfelt sympathy. Bake in a good natured pan, and serve repeatedly.

OGDEN TEMPLE
350 22nd Street
Ogden, Utah 84401

Dear Bride and Groom:

We are pleased to learn that you are coming to the Ogden Temple to be married. In making your preparations here are a few things that will be very helpful to you.

1. TEMPLE RECOMMENDS: Secure your marriage Temple Recommend(s) from your Bishop(s) and, before leaving the Bishop, be sure he has initialed all ordinances you desire to accomplish and that he dates and signs the recommend. The right-hand portion of the recommend(s) must be filled in completely, including your full baptismal date and endowment date if you have been previously endowed. Make certain that all names are spelled correctly. Remember to go to your Stake President(s) for an interview and his signature on your recommend and bring such recommend(s) with you when you come to the Temple.

An interval of at least one (1) full year between your baptismal date and your anticipated first visit to the Temple is required. This period cannot be shortened except by special permission from the First Presidency. A letter from the First Presidency granting such permission must be brought with you if an earlier endowment date has been authorized.

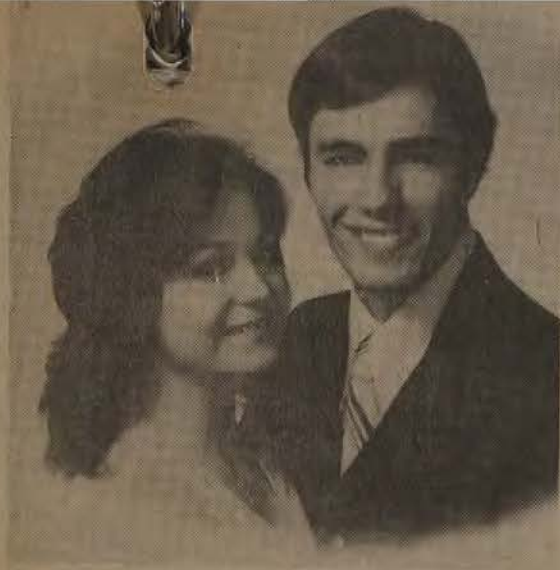

2. MARRIAGE LICENSE: It will be necessary for you to secure and bring your Utah marriage license with you. Out-of-state licenses are not legal in Utah. In order to secure a Utah marriage license, each of you must obtain a medical examination from a licensed physician or surgeon, including a standard serological blood test, and submit the doctor's certificate showing the results of the tests. (Out-of-state blood tests are acceptable in Utah if they are dated within thirty days of the date you apply for the license.) There is no required waiting period in Utah for the issuance of the license or for the performance of the marriage ceremony thereafter. If the bride or groom is under 18 years of age a license may be secured only if the bride and/or groom presents a notarized statement giving the consent of his/her father, mother or legal guardian, when one of these cannot be present in person. The marriage license is not valid after thirty days from the date it is issued.
3. OWN ENDOWMENT AND MARRIAGE IMMEDIATELY AFTER: If you plan to receive your own endowment and be married immediately after the Own Endowment Session, please be at the Temple by 6:30 a.m. Tuesday through Saturday, or 3:30 p.m. Tuesday through Friday. Accompanying group not later than 6:55 a.m. or 3:55 p.m. If you plan to receive your own endowment and be married at a later date, please refer to paragraph 4.
4. MARRIAGE (PREVIOUSLY ENDOWED): If you are coming for a scheduled marriage (having previously received endowment), you should make an appointment with the Marriage Desk in advance. For scheduled marriages, bride and groom and party should be at the Temple by 8 a.m., 11 a.m. or 5:30 p.m. Notify the person at the Marriage Desk of the approximate number of guests you expect. Bear in mind that only those who have received their own endowment and who present current recommends are eligible to come into the Temple. Members of your immediate families and close kindred and, possibly, a few close and intimate friends may appropriately be invited to the Temple.

5. WITNESSES: If possible, please have in mind the names of your two male witnesses who will sign your marriage papers at the Temple. If you are coming alone and do not have witnesses, the Temple will provide them.
6. CLOTHING TO BE WORN IN TEMPLE: Suitable clothing can be rented at the Temple if desired. If you bring your own wedding gown it should be white or candle-light (light ivory) with long sleeves and modestly high neck with rather simple trim. If wedding gowns are worn there should be no trains or hoops. A detachable train could be provided for wearing at a reception to follow. Trains are extremely difficult to manage in the Temple. Shoes should be plain white kid or satin pumps or something similar with a low or medium heel. The soles should be white. Shoes are also available at the Temple.
7. STREET CLOTHING TO WEAR TO TEMPLE: Street Clothing worn to the Temple should be modest and clean. Church standards should be observed. Sisters should not come to the Temple dressed in mini-skirts, slacks, or pant suits. Brethren coming to witness the marriage should wear a long-sleeved, white or light-colored shirt with an appropriate tie and jacket.
8. GUESTS: Guests planning to go through a session with you should arrive at the Temple by 6:55 a.m. or at 3:55 p.m. If they are coming to witness the marriage only, they should be advised to be at the Temple no later than 9:15 a.m. or 6:15 p.m. and go directly to the Marriage Waiting Room on the main floor. Here they can rent white slippers. Conservative street clothing (except for shoes) may be worn to witness marriages. Will you please remind all guests to come properly dressed as set forth in this and the preceding paragraph. Also urge them to be on time. Guests arriving late cannot be admitted to the sealing room after the ceremony has commenced.
9. PHOTOGRAPHS: After your marriage, if you desire to take pictures on the Temple grounds, you are welcome to do so. Pictures cannot be taken in the Temple. If desired, the bride may wear her wedding gown. Temple slippers are to be removed and replaced with own shoes before going out on the grounds. When you arrive at the Temple all cameras must be checked at the Recommend Desk. Photographers and anyone without recommends, including nonmembers, will be welcome to wait in the outer waiting room until you are ready to take pictures. They can then join the wedding party on the Temple grounds.
10. OFFICIATORS FOR TEMPLE MARRIAGES: Couples planning to be married in the Temple are encouraged to use the regular Temple Sealers to perform marriages and sealings. Asking General Authorities to perform marriages is discouraged because of the tremendous burdens they already carry.

It is important that both bride and groom read this letter carefully in order that each may be fully informed. It is our desire that your coming to the Temple will be a rich experience and we will do all within our power to make it so.

If you desire further information or if there is any change in your marriage date or plans please call the Marriage Appointment Desk, 621-6880.

MR. AND MRS. GLENN R. WHICKER

Vows Exchanged In LDS Temple

Exchanging nuptial vows Wednesday, March 15 in the Ogden LDS Temple were Miss Pamela Stones of Logan and Glenn R. Whicker of Kaysville.

THE BRIDE is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Boyce R. Stones of 71½ West Center, Logan. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Ben R. Whicker of 90 North 500 East, Kaysville.

Following the ceremony, the couple was honored at a wedding luncheon at the home of the bridegroom's parents in Kaysville.

THEY were honored at a reception that evening at the Colonial Mansion in Logan.

For her wedding and reception the bride wore a family bridal gown of antique lace with chiffon overlay. It was styled with empire waist, lace cap over full puffed sleeves and full length.

THE BRIDE'S bouquet consisted of talisman roses and yellow daisies.

Attending the bride were Miss Jalyn Stones, sister of the bride, as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Rachel Whicker and Ryanne Whicker, sisters of the bridegroom.

THEY wore matching gowns of shiny burnt orange quiana accented with cream lace. They held yellow daisies and baby breath.

The bride's and bridegroom's mother wore floor-length gowns of leaf print of burnt orange and brown of soft knit. Their corsages were yellow roses.

TAMARA Stones attended the guest book.

Best man duties were performed by Mike Moyes. Ushers were Charles F. Whicker, Ben M. Whicker and Jeffrey P. Whicker, brothers of the bridegroom.

FOLLOWING a honeymoon trip to Los Angeles and San Francisco, Calif. the couple will make their home in Logan.

They will be honored at an open house on March 25 at the home of the bridegroom's parents in Kaysville.

PRENUPTIAL parties were given by Mrs. Curtis Cloward and Mrs. Connie Whicker.

The bride graduated from Logan High School and has attended Utah State University.

THE bridegroom is a graduate of Davis High School. He is attending Utah State University at Logan where he is studying aeronautical engineering. He is in the Air Force ROTC.

The bride has fulfilled an LDS mission to the Ohio Mission and the bridegroom fulfilled an LDS mission to Argentina - Buenos Aires North.

OUT-of-town guests attending the wedding were grandmothers of the bride, Mrs. Virginia Timms of Logan and Mrs. Genevieve Stones of Ogden; grandparents of the bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin A. Whicker of Clifton, Colo. and Mr. and Mrs. Forrest S. Clodfelter of Florida. np

Dear Elder Whicker,

Congradulations, both my wife and I were very impressed by such a lovely fiancée. We always trusted your good judgment and we were never wrong, but now we must also confess that you have very good taste.

As usual your letters are spiritual. How wonderful it is to behold a spiritual man. His might is not perishable, but eternal.

Dearest Pam:

I have been wanting to write to you for a couple of weeks and I've just procrastinated because I wanted to have time to do it just the way I wanted to, so I could express myself properly.

First of all, I am so sorry about Saturday, & especially Saturday night, when I didn't have the strength or the composure to say goodbye to you. I love you dearly already, and I truly had a desire to see you before you left, but I knew for you to come into my room & see me as I was would only embarrass you & I didn't want to make you uncomfortable. Please forgive me. I really do become weak and helpless sometimes - through my lack of faith & prayer, I'm sure.

May I say again - I love you. Glenn has always been very close to me & I to him. My heart was full of joy when he told me he had found "the girl". Because I knew he had been prayerful and very, very particular about finding a girl who loved the Lord and would follow him in righteousness. I am so very grateful for you - & your parents, who have taught you & brought you up to be such a sweet, beautiful girl. And to the Lord, who I believe sent you where & when it was just right to meet Glenn.

Pam, I don't know what you were referring to when you said there were things you had to resolve and that change was hard for you. But I have been worried that perhaps our family problems might frighten you.

There may be doubts in your minds — why can such a thing happen to a family if they are living the gospel? Are they really sincere? etc., etc. Well, I want to try and express to you my feelings — about my husband, & about our very special marriage.

I have known exactly 2 couples in my entire life who have had a marriage that could even compare with ours — with what ours was I mean. Of course there are many that have found that kind of marital joy, I'm sure, but on a percentage basis — not many at all. We didn't just exist day after day, dully content to endure the mere routine of life. Each day was a joy for us — each ~~time~~ a challenge that we recognized as a chance to grow together. Ben is a wonderful, strong and humble husband & father — when he has the Spirit of the Lord.

But through a series of circumstances — (which I won't go into detail ~~until~~ we can talk) — circumstances which were but one more trial — but this time he failed to take his share of the trial & he gave Satan the chance to enlarge on a weakness which had always been there, but which had stayed a strength as long as Ben obeyed & retained the Spirit of the Lord, which Spirit is our only strength. (Alma 26:12)

Pam, what I'm trying to say is that this certainly didn't have to happen to us — and wouldn't have if we had worked for Him constantly and been ever grateful — in every moment — for our many, many blessings. Ingratitude — probably the mother of all sin.

I have tried to look back & see what we could have done to guarantee (as much as possible) this ~~wouldn't~~ have happened to us. These are the things I believe I would counsel my children to see well to in their marriages:

1. Daily "married" prayers each and every morning & evening - separate from the family prayers, & of course from secret prayer.
2. A minimum of 15 minutes of study together each day of scriptures, including the words of our living prophets.
3. A minimum of 1 temple trip a month together - more if possible.
4. Never hold it in when there is a problem of resentment, etc., within you. Pray in secret for the right words & actions to keep the Lord's spirit with you as you discuss the problem, then get it taken care of just as quickly as possible. I know you & Glenn aren't the type to find it hard to say "I'm sorry" and that gives you two jumps ahead of most couples!
5. Obey all the commandments you know and add the ones you will come to know as you grow. Love the Lord.

That would be, I believe, an active guarantee! Glenn has had much more spiritual growth in his life to prepare him for marriage than we ever had! And I don't believe he is much like his father was in those areas at all. But he could fall — just as absolutely any man (or woman, for that matter) can and will fall without the Lord's spirit. It's a sure success with His help, & a sure failure without His help!

That may be oversimplifying the matter a little, but I don't really think so. It's pretty clear, I believe.

I pray that your mind will be calm and at peace about your marriage. I know Glenn is considerate & thoughtful and wants very much for you to be happy. May the Lord's choicest blessings be with you, and His full measure of joy fill your hearts.

All my love,

"Mam" Whicker

My Dear Pam,

I'm sure with the big wedding day comming up you don't have alot of time to read fan mail, but I thought that I ought to send you a little note and congratulate you.

Needless to say when your invation hit the missionfield there was weeping, and wailing, and gnashing of teeth, especially amongst all we Moses' out here (Can you believe that I am one of the oldies now?) Anyway we hate to see a fox bite the dust.

Your future husband looked like a sharp guy, I hope he realizes what a wonderful person he made the fatal commitment with.

You certaintely have an interesting little sister. She writes very interesting letters, that are both amusing, and the right amount of "spiritual" for famished missionaries. If she is anything like you I'm sure I won't be disapointed when I meet her.

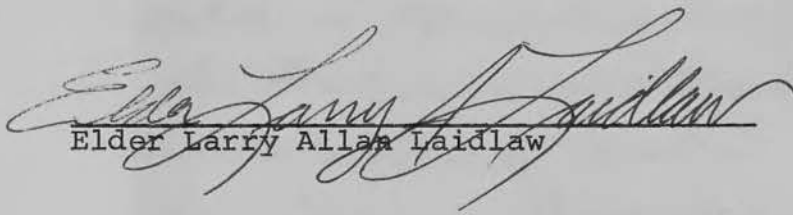

The mission is doing fairly well now. We just challenged the Ohio-Cleveland mission to a Baptizing contest for the months of April and May. We told them that we would out-baptize them 2 to 1. Well like I said in the beginning of this epistle, you are probably not that interested in trivial matters from Ohio at this moment.

Best of luck in life. You are a wonderful young lady. As a missionary you showed me how spiritual a missionary could be. It's too bad you weren't five years younger... Oh well, such is life I guess.

I don't know if you hear much of the latest gossip, but Elder Jeff Kinney, Elder Don Pope, Elder Finch, Elder Whitaker, and Elder Windsor are all taking, or have taken the fatal step also.

Lots of Love,

Elder Larry Allan Laidlaw

Dear Sister Stones.

Received your announcement of your marriage and want to thank you very much for thinking about us. I am very happy for you that you have found a very nice man that belongs to the church, and I will be blest, sure would like to come for the occasion I am not able to come at this time, Sunday will be Test and Testimony and it also marks one year that I have been baptized by Brother Brown, I think this would be a very nice time to do this and bear my testimony. I love the Church more and more and I am getting. I was asked by our Bishop McVey if I would like to be Visiting teacher Coordinator in Relief Society. I am a Visiting teacher in Relief Society ^{Sister} Carol Williams is my companion and are going to do our visiting in the evening as it seems it is very hard to get ladies out to visit at night. I used to go right from work and found that it was pushing for us. Sister Williams and Brother Williams have adopted the dearest baby boy and they are the proudest parents and love him very much. His name is Gregory Alexander Williams. The ladies from the Relief Society from our Ward I and Ward 4 gave her a nice shower and she received many nice gifts. Sunday March 19th is State Conference in Masonic Temple downtown. I am waiting for it as Elder Paul H. Deenn will be the speaker the church was passing brochures around about him. Last June our Church was split in three wards Ward I which I am in Ward 4 meets in our Chapel and Ward 5 meets in a High School Gym on Broadview Road our Ward had an auction last Friday hoping to raise money for the purpose of ward 5 having a Chapel to be built in Parma as soon as the weather clears up. Take care of yourself and may God Bless you

RULES FOR A HAPPY MARRIED LIFE

1. Never both be angry at once.
2. Never yell at each other unless the house is on fire.
3. Yield to the wishes of the other as an exercise in self-discipline if you can't think of a better reason.
4. If you have a choice between making yourself look good or your mate --- choose your mate.
5. If you have any criticism, make it lovingly.
6. Never bring up a mistake of the past.
7. Neglect the whole world rather than each other.
8. Never let the day end without saying at least one complimentary thing to your life's partner.
9. Never meet without an affectionate welcome.
10. Never go to bed mad.
11. When you've made a mistake, talk it out and ask for forgiveness.
12. Remember, it takes two to make an argument. The one who is wrong is the one who will be doing most of the talking.

Dear Sam 2

This is just to let you know what you mean to me. I'm afraid I haven't been too good at that for awhile. If only I could always express myself in a way that you could feel the intensity of my feelings.

When I tell you I love you, I am saying thank you with all my heart for being who you are, and doing the things you do. I mean I appreciate your superior homemaking skills. I am proud to bring people here because, altho' it's a small, old apartment, you shape it into a beautiful home, with a very comfortable atmosphere. I mean thank you for your concern that I eat right. Your meals are more to me than just a satisfaction of my physical needs. They show me you love me, and allow me to see yet another ramification of your homemaking skills.

When I say I love you, I am thinking of the things you've helped me learn, such as money management, genealogy, social aptitude and many more. I mean I appreciate your willingness to work full time to help and even take the majority of the load of providing our needs - which generally should be my responsibility. In doing so, you push yourself hard to fulfill all your duties at home, work, church. I appreciate that.

I refer to the exceptional way you care for your own hygiene & beauty. You make a guy feel proud to have as a companion ~~with~~ such a lovely daughter of God. Always I get compliments about 'having done alright!' in choosing a wife.

So when you hear me say those three simple words, remember what I mean by them.

You are special to me.

I promise to continue working on my own talents and abilities, that I can be a man worthy of such a special mate. I want nothing more than to be able to establish with you, an eternal family unit. I will someday be the man I am striving to become. I promise you that. And I'm thankful that in the meantime, and forever, I have you at my side.

Come, take my hand
And we shall see
The wonders of Eternity.

I LOVE you.

Glenn

SCHEDULED DATES AND TIMES

February 6, 1979 to March 3, 1979

MONDAY: 9:00 A.M. to 5:00 P.M.

TUESDAY THROUGH SATURDAY: 9:00 A.M. to 7:00 P.M.

SUNDAY: CLOSED

1. This temple is regarded as the house of the Lord where sacred ordinances will be performed. Public showing of the temple is intended to be a spiritual experience; therefore, conversation is discouraged inside the temple. Placards will provide necessary explanations within the temple.
2. It will be appreciated if all who visit us will come dressed as they would for worship services in their own church. Please do not wear heels that might damage the carpets.
3. Please, no children under 6 years of age. Children from 6 to 16 years of age should be accompanied by an adult.
4. No cameras will be permitted inside the temple.
5. Additional tickets may be secured on the temple grounds.

Against a background of majestic Wasatch range peaks and clear blue sky, the Logan Temple stands on its east bench terrace like a shining sentinel over northern Utah's Cache Valley. The history of this impressive building, which was remodeled and then rededicated to the sacred work of the Lord in 1979, began in the summer of 1856, when Peter

Maughan, under the direction of Church President Brigham Young, led a party of settlers to the valley, some 70 miles north of Salt Lake City.

A year later, the first crops had been harvested and the settlement had grown to include thirteen homes. Cache Valley continued to grow in number and in spirit as its settlers worked together to accomplish the tasks presented them. One such task was the building of the Utah Northern Railroad. In 1871, under the leadership of William B. Preston, the settlers played a major role in the construction of a rail line from Ogden, Utah, north to Soda Springs, Idaho. Nearly all Latter-day Saint congregations in the area were represented on the construction crew. The workers received stock in the railroad, making it truly, as it was called, "a people's road."

Working together was a tradition among the Latter-day Saints of the Cache Valley. Their ability to work together for a common purpose was an important factor in the success of their effort to build a temple in Logan.

MASTERBUILDER ARCHITECT

Truman O. Angell, noted masterbuilder and architect of the Salt Lake Temple, was also the architect of the Logan Temple. Angell had earlier assisted in the construction of temples in Kirtland, Ohio, and Nauvoo, Illinois.

In 1865, Angell went to Europe and divided his time between proselyting and studying the architecture of historic sites. The striking design of the temple, built in a castellated style with battlements and towers similar to those of a Norman castle, is perhaps a result of the architect's study in Europe.

REMODELING IN THE 70s

In 1976 the First Presidency of the Church announced that extensive remodeling and renovation of the temple would take place. That remodeling included a new baptismal font, new ordinance rooms, a new chapel, and other rooms and offices needed for increasing use of the temple.

PROPHECY FULFILLED

The building of the Logan Temple was a fulfillment of a prophecy by Elder Wilford Woodruff, an apostle, in 1861. On May 18, 1877, sixteen years after Elder Woodruff's prophetic announcement, Brigham Young selected the temple site.

BUILDING BEGINS

Within two weeks of the selection of the site, excavation was underway. Early in the project President Young and other Church leaders called for local help in all aspects of construction.

Once again, Cache Valley residents responded in a united effort. As a result, several industries came to Logan to meet the needs of the project. What materials were not used from the sawmill, lime kiln, and quarries for the actual temple building were sold in the marketplace, and the money obtained was used to purchase supplies needed for the temple. Gifts of many varieties, from eggs to a Mason and Hamblin organ, were also given to help build the temple.

The temple, built of dark-colored siliceous limestone quarried near Logan, was dedicated on May 17, 1884, by President John Taylor, after seven years of construction.

Mormon Temples

The temples of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints are unique among the world's religious edifices. They are not built to serve as chapels for weekly worship services. In fact, they are generally closed on Sunday—the Christian Sabbath. (Mormons do congregate for Sunday worship, but not in temples. Thousands of beautiful neighborhood meetinghouses have been constructed throughout the world for regular church services.) In the temples, faithful members meet on weekdays, as often as they are able, to participate in special, sacred ceremonies based upon the sanctity of the family unit.

FAMILY IS THE KEY

Members of the Church believe that the family is the basic unit of any society and that the moral strength of a community, of a nation, or of the entire world can be accurately measured by the strength or weakness of its families.

MARRIAGE FOR ETERNITY

In the temples, faithful members of the Church may be united in marriage, not merely until parted by death, but for eternity. This is accomplished by the authority of the priesthood, the power given by Christ to "bind on earth" that which is to be "bound in heaven" (see Matthew 16:19). Couples previously wed outside the temples can make their marriage eternal in a temple wedding ceremony.

THE ENDOWMENT

Another sacred rite performed in the temples of the Church is the endowment, a course of instruction during which covenants of devotion to the teachings and commandments of Jesus Christ are made.

© LDS

ANCESTORS ARE IMPORTANT

Proxy baptisms are performed in the temples by Church members who are baptized in behalf of deceased ancestors who did not have the opportunity of personally taking this essential step while living. (The living are baptized, by immersion, for themselves in other Church buildings.) Marriages and endowments are also performed in behalf of people who lived in other periods of time, perhaps hundreds of years ago.

PROXY RITES NOT NEW

Unusual as it may seem now, the performing of proxy baptisms for ancestors is not new in the Christian world. Nearly 2,000 years ago, the apostle Paul said, "What shall they do which are baptized for the dead, if the dead rise not at all? why are they then baptized for the dead?" (1 Corinthians 15:29). Paul's words indicate that vicarious baptism for deceased persons was an accepted practice in the Savior's church centuries ago.

Through the efforts of the living, those who have passed on to a postmortal spirit world and who are awaiting resurrection may elect to receive the benefits of baptism, the temple endowment, eternal marriage, and the binding together of their families in an everlasting relationship.
